 "The people of the Pacific Coast are hoping, are praying that you set these five defendants free," said Mr. Robinson.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 10.—
The construction of a dam and power plant on the Chelan River in Washington to cost more than $100,000, is being planned by the Great Northern road. The Great Northern is the largest of the railroads in the Northwest, and the construction of the dam and power plant will be the largest project of the company in the Northwest. The dam will be located on the Chelan River, and will be a concrete dam, 1,000 feet long, and 100 feet high.
The power plant will be a hydroelectric plant, and will generate 10,000 horsepower.
The dam and power plant will be owned by the Great Northern Railway, and will be operated by the company. The dam and power plant will be a great benefit to the Northwest, and WIFE IS TO HAVE IT.

SAMPED with the death mark
—sarcoma— and blessed with beauty that has thrilled two continent, Mrs. Harvey Humphreys, wife of one of the champion Marathon runners and motorcycle riders of Great Britain and South Africa, is to have her revenge.

Harvey Humphreys, his track laurels fast fading under the scorching heat of scandal, has been arrested on the charge of deception.

At the Occidental Hotel, W. P.
Fleming of No. 1210 Fifth street, San Diego, smiled last night for the first time in many days. His frail little body, which had been shattered by a technical report of the method of stamping or tagging after inspection.
The beef from Australia arrived bearing a tag instead of being stamped on the carcasses in indelible ink, as is required by the United States law.

BEEF NOT EXCLUDED.

The Federal authorities did not see fit to exclude the beef on that account, knowing that it is the method used for marking after inspection in vogue in the antipodes. The meat could be sold to retailers at 7 cents below the prevailing prices.

Although the Board of Health is auxiliary to the United States department in the matter of inspection, it has acted on its own authority in this matter. Its first act was to refer the beef to the sanitation committee.
This committee has held on or two meetings on the subject but has come to no decision.

And, likewise, Mrs. Fleming, enamored of the man and enthralled by his stories of adventure, also forgot her marriage vows. She disappeared.

Charity or a wonderful love beat in her husband's breast. He had no doubt that the woman was deserted him. Probably he understood.
But he was determined to lead back to his home his misguided mate. He alarmed the Consul.

With strength that astounded her surgeons and physicians, Mrs.
Humphreys, awakened from grief to fury by realization that her idol had been shattered, and alive to the truth that another woman was duped, summoned her maid and told her to pack her trunk.

Back in St. Louis, where Humphreys was arrested yesterday, susceptible, weak little Mrs. Fleming sits in solitary contrition, wishing that she might escape from her life the memory of Humphreys. Exploited as a hero, a king among his kind, Humphreys met and won the love of his own pretty wife during a great international athletic meet in Australia twelve months ago. His veins pulsating with the wanderlust, he started on a tour of the world on his motorcycle, his wife with him. In Los Angeles the death march—appeared within her splendidly-proportioned body. She went to a hospital for an operation, brave and praying that she might survive only for her idol. One day he failed to...

She has said that she cares neither for the terror of the inevitable, the final, life-taking horror that is before her for anything else in the world save revenge. She set out to have it. From Los Angeles she traced her husband's movements, through San Diego, to San Jose and San Francisco. There the clues gave out. She appealed to the authorities. Constable Hayes found that Humphreys had shipped his baggage from San Diego to St. Louis, and that the world tour he had planned on motorcycle with his wife he had started with another man's wife.

The arrest at St. Louis followed. Mrs. Humphreys lives at No. 1019 West Eleventh street now. She will remain until her husband is brought back here and she meets him face to face. The other woman she does not know.

history, which is about to plunge into a tremendous scheme of military expansion in the midst of profound peace.

"If a war were actually imminent the nation could hardly be asked to make heavier contributions of men or treasure. Another 100,000 citizens are to be drafted to the army and another $275,000,000 is to be expended on guns, fortifications, barracks, horses and other equipment.

"Twenty millions are to be invested in ships and aeroplanes, and the navy, which is disbursing this year a record total of $118,700,000, demands another $12,500,000 for ships and aeroplanes.

"The permanent war chest which Germany keeps on hand in gold for mobilization purposes is to be raised from $5,000,000 to $12,000,000. Altogether the German army and navy budgets, including the projects introduced today, will aggregate for 1912 the sum of $1,600,000,000.

"The nation is to be subjected to heavy new taxation to pay the freight. On 'fortunes' of $2500 or over a special assessment of one half of 1 per cent. will be levied. Income of $12,500 or over will pay a supplementary tax of 2 per cent. Even the holders of life insurance policies must contribute a tax on the annual premiums.

"The business world is not doing any less complaining, but nevertheless it is deeply stirred. Its spokesman, I am told, intends to cross-examine the government during the debate as to the actual necessity for such an enormous increase in the expenditure.

"Germany's foreign trade now is nearly $5,000,000,000 a year. Her commercial growth eclipses anything in economic history and if it continues to develop, as I think it will, Germany in a few years will be the richest country in Europe. Her banks and merchants assure me that the 'fire insurance premium' it even over $500,000,000, is not too much to guarantee the preservation of the trade interests which Germany has built."

Kaiser's Attitude.
Mr. Mayer says an entirely new light on Emperor William's attitude toward war has been let in on him during his recent visit in Berlin. "People in a position to know," he said, "assure me that the Emperor is irreversibly a man of peace. They say his apostrophes of military virtues, so frequently expressed, are not to be taken as any indication whatever that he sighs for martial laurels or to be a war lord.

"My informants make this important point, however, that if the war party (and it is strong) ever gains the momentary preponderance for setting Germany's terrible military machine in motion the Emperor might find himself unable to stem the tide."

MOVE STARTED TO OUST ROJAS.

Mexicans Resent His Attack on Ambassador Wilson.

Meeting Demands Action Against Grand Master.

Government Issues Appeal to Increase the Army.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
MEXICO CITY, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As a result of the charges made against American Ambassador Wilson by Antonio Rojas, that the Ambassador had been forward of the intention of Gen. Huerta to kill President Madero in case the Huerta-Dias revolution was successful, a movement was started here today at an indignation meeting to prosecute Rojas for having made public the charges, and if possible, oust him from his high office.

In effect, Rojas's charges were that Ambassador Wilson knew President Madero was to be killed, that he refused to take any steps that would prevent it, and that therefore, he was an accessory before the fact to Madero's killing.

The meeting adopted resolutions denouncing Rojas's charges, and demanding that action against him be started at once.

The government today issued an appeal to all clerks and workmen in Mexico to enlist in the army and serve until the rebels had been vanquished. The appeal came as the result of information that the rebels were steadily gaining both in numbers and territory, in the north. The most disquieting report received today was that nearly all of the bands in the northern line of states had combined under the leadership of Gen. Carranza and had decided to march upon Juarez and make that city the capital of the rebel government.

JOHNSON'S INJUNCTION

Abatement Motion

Tariff War Breaks Out

Congress Memorial

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SACRAMENTO, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When the court today threw out the injunction for a final hearing on the injunctive bill before the court, the court in opposition to the bill, directly after the hearing on it. The court in its opinion stated that the bill was not a bill for the relief of the injured party, but a bill for the relief of the injured party, and that the court was not to be bound by the opinion of the court in its opinion.

The Rev. Dr. C. M. Sheldon, Author of "In His Steps," of Topeka, Kan., who will organize police force along Christian lines.

IDEALISTIC.

RANKS POLICE AS MINISTERS.

TOPEKA POLICE REORGANIZED BY DR. C. M. SHELDON.

Author of "In His Steps," Appointed to Civil Service Commission, Will Select Members for Showing in Missionary Spirit and Not Alone Ability to Detect Crime.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

TOPEKA (Kan.), April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Women and college graduates will be on Topeka's reorganized police force as a result of the appointment of Dr. C. M. Sheldon, author of "In His Steps," to the Civil Service Commission of the city. The new patrolmen of Topeka will be selected not solely for ability as criminal detectives, Dr. Sheldon said to night in accepting his appointment, but also for showing the spirit of the missionary.

The new patrolmen will rank in the community with the minister, the teacher and everyone else with the good of the community at heart," declared the noted author and preacher.

"To obtain this type of men and women, higher salaries will be paid, but the saving in crime prevention will more than repay the city for extra expense."

The Civil Service Board will pass on all applications for jobs to the Topeka police force, which is to be entirely reorganized as a result of its recent election.

The women's clubs, the church people and a business men's committee conducted a strict law enforcement campaign which resulted in the election of R. L. Coffey over J. B. Billard for Mayor. Billard last fall was a candidate for nomination for Governor on the Democratic ticket on a platform for the reorganization of the prohibitory amendment, but was defeated. Coffey's "come back" to the Mayorship after serving his third term in the chair twenty years ago.

Dr. Sheldon made a study of police efficiency in his recent lecture tour over the continent. Life appointments, pension at the end of twenty years service; the relegation of the "set a thief to catch a thief" idea to the background are some of the theories of the leading prohibition and suffrage state.

PREFACE TO HIS MESSAGE.

President Changes His Mind About Something After Deciding to Resign. Possibly His Lecture to Congress.

(BY A. P. WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—President Wilson wrote a brief preface tonight to the message to Congress, which he previously had prepared. His determination to read the message in person tomorrow to the members of both houses, sitting in joint session, caused him to make an addition appropriate to the occasion.

The President, when officially informed by a committee consisting of Senators Kern and Gallinger and Representative Underwood and Fiske, said that both houses of Congress were organized and ready to receive the message to Congress, which he was coming to the Capitol. He replied that if it were agreeable he would avail himself of that privilege. He then was advised that the House and Senate met at noon and that Congress would be organized in joint session ready to receive him at 12:30 o'clock.

The President will not be accompanied by any of his personal aides. Secretary Tamm and secret-service men alone will go with him to the Capitol. He plans to make the ceremony as simple and as brief as possible.

A Cabinet meeting will precede the President's departure from the White House and, while the Cabinet members will not accompany the President officially, it is understood that some of them will attend the ceremony.

A Mystery Still. JURY SEEKING TO SOLVE IT.

Police and County Officers
United in Action.

Mother of Accused Woman
Is Urging Her to Talk.

Lawyers Under Suspicion of Unseemly Conduct.

Holding a grand jury session for the probable purpose of getting unsworn witnesses to disclose what they know of the motives back of the killing of Mrs. Irene Mattis Smith, police and county authorities united yesterday in an effort to get at the bottom of what still remains a mysterious murder.

While James L. Murphy is to be held in his preliminary examination before Justice Williams at the University Police Court this morning, the detectives have not as yet secured all the information desired. There is much in the case, say the investigators, that has not come to the surface yet.

Mrs. Estelle Moore was not before the grand jury yesterday. She was said to be in a delicate condition. Supposedly her lawyers spoke for her before the inquisitorial body.

A considerable attendance was noted in the corridor leading to the grand juryroom before the session began. Subsequent to the session more than twenty witnesses came forward and were evidently reluctant to give out information.

EVERYBODY WORKING.
Justice Dist. Atty. Ford was with the grand jurors the greater part of the day. He was assisted by Deputy District Attorney Shannon, who has been helping in the investigation since the first day. Neither Ford nor Shannon would discuss the case yesterday, but that part relating to the grand jury end.

John Frank Robinson, who apparently holds the trump cards in the form of bona fide coin of the realm, was with the grand jury yesterday. He was said to be in a delicate condition. Supposedly her lawyers spoke for her before the inquisitorial body.

Curious Person Shocked.
When He Stops to Learn Meaning of Collecting of Street Crowd He Finds Wife Injured.
A man was hurrying along Main street at Second last night when he saw a crowd hurrying collecting in the center of the street. He paused, then returned out of curiosity to see what was the stir. He discovered that his wife had been hit by a car. He found his wife had been hit by a car. He found his wife had been hit by a car.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.
Man With Gratitude Attempts to Get Even But Patrolman Is Waiting and Arrests Him.
To feed a grievance Charles E. Lyons attempted to set fire to a small kiosk at No. 117 North Avenue last night, and was arrested while lighting the match. Lyons, who has a room on Fifty-fourth street, had trouble with the keeper of the kiosk, who employed him, over a motor cycle, and was discharged. He threatened to burn out the place.

Yesterday the man feared that Lyons would accomplish his threat and notified the University Police Station. A patrolman trailed Lyons last night and witnessed him collecting inflammable materials and placing them in a place under the kiosk, where it would have been easily ignited. When it was ready for the flash Lyons was placed under arrest.

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY.
Annual Meeting and Reception to Be Held This Afternoon at United Presbyterian Church.
The Children's Home Society will hold its twenty-first annual meeting at the United Presbyterian Church, Fifth and Figueroa streets, this afternoon.

The election of officers and business meeting will be held from 2 to 3 o'clock. From 3 to 4 o'clock will be the annual children's reception. A large company of children, orphaned or homeless and now members of Los Angeles families, will be present and present an attractive program.

A Real Winner Resort.
[Washington Star] Luther Burroughs, the plant wizard, said, as he gathered a bouquet of violets in Santa Rosa, on a brilliant December morning.

"Why do so many of our misguided people shiver and cough on the Riviera in the winter when they might bank here in white linen under the palms?"

The Riviera reminds me of the man who opened a boarding-house at Saragat Lake and advertised it as a winter resort.

"A guest went up there, and, after a brief sojourn, packed up, paid his bill and said:

"How can you have the nerve to advertise this place as a winter resort when the thermometer for the past week has registered 4 deg. below zero?"

The landlord looked aggrieved.

"Well, that's winter, ain't it?" he exclaimed. "If I below ain't winter, I'd like to know what is!"

Campaign On.

headquarters established as soon as possible.

Albert Lee Stephens, whose candidacy for City Attorney already looks like a walk-over, asked to be excused from further participation upon the committee because of campaign duties. His request was granted.

PUTTING GINGER IN.
The burden of the battle will be borne by the sub-committee named yesterday, and the Executive Committee as a whole will discontinue its daily sessions but remain subject to the call of the chair. The Campaign Committee will meet every day, and its chairman intimated that there would be no lack of "ginger" in the forthcoming proceedings. "First see that you are properly registered," is the warning repeatedly sounded to the voters.

The bond election which comes on the 15th inst. is not to be permitted to halt activities for the municipal campaign, but the next week will be devoted largely to the preliminaries of organization, the speaking and editorial work starting in full force immediately after the election next week.

John W. Shenk was not present at the meeting yesterday, but was busy at his desk in the City Attorney's office "catching up" after a trip to the sequester. "Status quo" is the state of political affairs there, it was said, but Shenk is getting ready for the busiest three weeks of his career just preceding the election.

It is conceded that Shenk, Stephens, Mallard, Myers and at least four members of the Board of Education will be elected under the majority rule at the primary election. Scott for the Education Board has a well-merited fight on hand for re-election, and one of the other candidates may meet him out of the post he covets. Opposition to Blight is also materializing.

GET OUT THE VOTE.
The burden of the campaign cry, after the presentation of the issues and the red danger, will be to get out the vote at the May primary in order that the expense of the regular election in June may not be saddled upon the city. The Geo-Goo Committee.

manic ticket reduces the chances of this accomplishment in that department, but the efforts of the organization to confuse the issue are not being kindly received by the public.

Rose has established headquarters on the sixth floor of the Chamber of Commerce building and is organized for an aggressive campaign. "Things look rosy," is the word which came from that ballroom yesterday.

George Cryer, who is making a lonesome attempt to pull down the City Attorney's job, is not seriously considered as a factor. Stephens has the unanimous support of both factions on the same ticket, with Cryer's chief, John W. Shenk, and it looks like hard sledding for the "tone hand" aspirant for the office. It is not improbable that he will withdraw from the race, before it is much older, in favor of Stephens, for the latter is getting an astonishing number of pledges of support from all sides, and every shade of political faith in the frequently-expressed belief that through him all will receive a square deal.

TRouble OF ITS OWN.
The Geo-Goo Committee of Nine is having troubles of its own, and has not yet named the campaign committee of fifty which it was authorized to appoint by the G.-O.'s working under the name of the People's Campaign Committee. This committee may be named today.

Opposition to Albert Lee Stephens for City Attorney has fallen flat in this committee, and it now seems certain that no successful attempt can be made to withdraw his name in favor of Cryer. It has not been determined whether the G.-O.'s will have campaign headquarters or not. Money is pretty tight, it is said, and there is a striking lack of enthusiasm over the service of the organization in convention assembled. This committee is likely to take the same action in regard to Councilman Whiffen's refusal to stand for its endorsement that the Municipal Conference Committee did, which is none at all. Nobody cares a cent about Whiffen.

The Federated Club luncheon yesterday power bonds were a part of the menu, and it was decided to ask the candidates for office to state their position upon these bonds. The luncheon call was signed by Lorin A. Handley, E. F. Scattergood, and Parley M. Johnson.

The opening gun of the municipal campaign will be fired by the Socialists tomorrow evening at the Auditorium. Fred C. Wheeler is to preside, and Ella Tupper Maynard and Thomas W. Williams, Socialist candidates for Council will speak. Job Harriman is the "headliner," but the bill also includes a campaign quartette, and the press agent assures a palpitating public that "Mr. Harriman of London, will render a vocal solo."

Superior Wants Law to Prevent Them From Blocking Country Roads—His Experience.

Superior Northing, yesterday asked Chief Deputy Hill, who represents the District Attorney in civil matters, if it is not possible to enact an ordinance to prevent trucks from being driven abreast along county roads while their owners gossip and enjoy one another's society.

"I had occasion the other day to drive my machine for a mile behind two teamsters," said Superior Northing. "When I told them they were blocking the highway and interfering with traffic one of them told me to go to the devil. The custom is almost universal. The heavy trucks tend to injure the shoulders of the good road system."

Deputy Hill is of the opinion that existing road ordinances will cover the subject, but he will investigate.

KEEP ROADS GOOD.
Supervisors Issue Order Which May Prevent Wrecking of Highways by Private Companies.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday instructed Deputy District Attorney Hill to prepare an ordinance which will make stringent provisions about tearing up the county highway. After spending thousands of dollars a mile in putting in good roads, the Supervisors say it is necessary to maintain them in condition.

Heretofore, when power companies dug through the road, the Supervisors declare, they did the work in so slovenly a manner as to greatly impair the efficiency of the highways. Hereafter a permit must be secured from Engineer Joyner of the County Highway Commission and all repairs must be made in a satisfactory manner.

Borrow To Make Money

It takes money to make money.

If you see an opportunity to make a profitable investment, don't allow a prejudice against borrowed money to prevent you. You can safely borrow money from us and easily pay it back. Every borrower from us repays his loan in convenient monthly payments.

It is no trouble to keep up these monthly payments and you are constantly decreasing the amount of the loan. Of course as the amount of the loan decreases you have less interest to pay.

We have made it our business to loan money since 1889, and though we have over $3,500,000 in active loans, we haven't a dollar's worth of real estate taken through foreclosure. That is because it is so easy to pay back a loan by our method.

We loan money only on improved property, for building purposes and to remove existing encumbrances. Call or write for our Loan Folder.

EARNING OUR FAVOR.

San Francisco has consented to let Los Angeles keep the San Pedro harbor. If the harbor of the North continues it will not become necessary for the South to set itself up as a new State until after the exposition.

A NEW PROFESSION.

If the practice of having candidates secure petitions ever goes out of fashion while an army of Los Angeles may would throw themselves out of jobs. The professional petitioner has a stronger graft than the permanent jurymen.

BETWEEN TWO CARS.

It is both unpleasant and unlucky to get caught between an automobile and a street car, but it is almost impossible in Los Angeles to dodge this predicament. These cars must somehow wait on one another long enough for a clearance of passengers.

ENGLAND'S MISTAKE.

In the beginning when man fell he fell into the arms of woman. Then woman also fell—her to everything the man possessed. There was a time when a man took a woman to his cave as his prisoner and straightaway diplomacy was introduced into the world, for the prisoner made an abject slave of her faller. In these days her work was to make the man work for her and the plan worked beautifully. It seems to us that the English suffragists are overlooking several aspects of natural history.

THE SONG TO THE SINGER.

There died in New Orleans in abject poverty last Saturday the composer of six hundred songs. The world seems never to have understood a certain fact which Whitman voices when he says that the song is to the singer and the love to the lover. The unpublished author is not only not a failure, but the luckiest of all writers. There are a monstrous egotism in all spectacular fiction such as the discovery of the North or the South Pole. Besides, it exposes one to all kinds of personal annoyance from those who have never discovered a pole, but should like to do so. Potentially is the important fact of his existence and its importance result is the increase of faculty. Let not be pulled up over a little achievement, nor cast down for a lack of it.

RED ROCK.

Thoreau tells the story of a traveler who asked a small boy in the swamp before him had a solid foundation. The small boy replied that it had. But, as the traveler sank deeper and deeper in the mire, he called back to the boy, "I thought you said that this bog had a solid bottom." "So it has," answered the boy. "But you haven't got half way down to it yet." The Republican party has been like Thoreau's traveler, whom a certain small boy named Teddy attempted to lure into political quicksand on the assurance that the bog had a hard bottom. But the Grand Old Party has traveled extensively, has climbed mountains, threaded forests, penetrated jungles, investigated waterholes and measured the depths of abysses. The Republican party didn't go so far into the quicksand as the small boy had hoped, and was able to extricate itself, to retrace its footsteps, to start over again from a solid rock foundation.

A greater man than Roosevelt once said: "You can't fool all the people all the time." Nearly a quarter of a century of unbroken success has proved the Republican party to represent the best and soundest in popular judgment. So we are getting together again, Old Guard and Progressive, regardless of the advice of small boys and disbelievers. We are building another national arch from the old solid bedrock foundation; and when the theorists have had their little day the practical men will come into their own again.

IRISH PRAY.

When an ancient mariner shoots an albatross we have it on the authority of Mr. Coleridge, the poet, that dreadful thing has happened to happen to himself and his fellow. But supposing an albatross should shoot an ancient mariner—what then? Up to the present time this riddle has remained without an answer.

Modern science has enabled the reverse side of the picture to be presented, making the bird the bad actor and the man the fated victim. Germany's big albatross, Zeppelin IV, was an up-to-date albatross, has just shot a crew of mariners over into forbidden territory and left them to the summary vengeance of their outraged neighbors. But the mechanical bird couldn't score on her human freight as the Coleridgean albatross scored on the unfortunate ancient mariner. The French republic was not so pitiless as the sea. Nor was the suffering of the German officers sufficiently poignant to claim the attention of any button-holed wedding guest, anxious to march into the hall with the red-nose bride. A modest fine, a few paragraphs in the newspapers—and the incident was dismissed. The German officers may have returned "sadder and wiser men"—but there the analogy ceases. Supposing that unruly Zeppelin IV had casually cast away those brave Teutons on the inhospitable shores of Albion, and they had been turned over to the tender mercies of the militant suffragettes; supposing one of them had been forced to marry Sylvia Pankhurst! There had been a theme for an epic to make Coleridge's "Ancient Mariner" look like thirty cents.

THE BOND QUESTIONS.

Of the eight propositions for the issuance of bonds to be submitted to the voters of this city it is to be hoped that three will be carried, that one will be rejected now and hereafter, and that four will be for the present defeated.

The sum of $1,500,000 is needed to bring the Owens River water into the city from the place where it emerges from the granite tunnel at a point above the San Fernando Valley. The $1,500,000 bonds named for this purpose should be carried unanimously. Without this work the $23,000,000 heretofore voted for the aqueduct will have given us an unavailable property. It would be like paying $23 for a life-giving draught and refusing to pay $1.50 for a vessel to convey it to the lips. It would be like expending $23 to dig a well and refusing to expend $1.50 for a bucket and rope with which to hoist the water.

The sum of $2,500,000 is required to complete the harbor improvements, for which $2,000,000 has already been appropriated. The necessity for these harbor improvements is vital and immediate. Much valuable time has already been wasted. If we are to gain substantial advantages from the Panama Canal, we must have accommodations for the ships that will pass through it. To state the case is to argue it. There should be no opposition to this bond issue of $2,500,000.

The proposition to issue $1,000,000 to begin the construction of a municipal railroad to and around the harbor is one that should receive grave consideration and close scrutiny before it is approved. There are no responsible estimates as to the ultimate cost of such a road, but it is conjectured that it will greatly exceed the amount of $1,000,000 required to initiate it. There is no pressing need for it at present, and the advisability of its being built at the cost of the taxpayers can be considered after the harbor shall be completed. There is virtue in "hedging" sometimes.

It is not necessary just now to provide a bond issue of $600,000 to acquire the State Normal School site for municipal purposes. The city is already bound to take it over, and this may be financed from the regular tax receipts without issuing bonds.

The proposition to issue $1,000,000 with which to acquire land and build a City Hall may be deferred without material injury to the city. There is no dire need of a new City Hall at present. Later it may be provided for.

The proposition to issue $2,500,000 of bonds to begin the building of a "high-line" aqueduct that it will cost from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 to complete to supply Pasadena, Glendora and San Dimas with the aqueduct water is justly condemned by Chief Engineer Mulholland as an impracticable and outrageous scheme, the offspring of "audacious rapacity." Moreover, this proposition is impracticable plan would involve the abandonment of the projected power-plant site above the southern outlet of the Owens River conduit. If Pasadena, Glendora, Azusa and San Dimas want the aqueduct water the least they can do is to build a high-line canal at their own cost or that of "a party of the name of" Graham. These towns can never become a part of the municipality of Los Angeles. Their citizens pay no taxes therein. No part of the interest or principal of the $23,000,000 of bonded indebtedness incurred to procure the Owens River water rests upon their property, and they have no legal or equitable right to ask the city of Los Angeles to expend millions to carry the Owens River water to their doors. It is not fair to ask it as a gratuity—an action which they will not deny.

It is different with the San Fernando Valley. Lands there are adjacent to the corporate limits of Los Angeles, are owned by hundreds of settlers, and will probably at no remote day become a part of the city, when the constantly increasing number of residents there will be taxed to pay their share of all the bonded indebtedness incurred in connection with the aqueduct and harbor construction. In the meantime they have their willingness and ability to use surplus aqueduct water at a price to be fixed by the city, as they are not undertaking to fix rates for themselves. A bond issue of $2,500,000 will construct aqueducts, reservoirs and "pipes" and an immediate revenue will be derived therefrom much more than sufficient to pay the interest on the $2,000,000 bonds required. The marketing of surplus water in the San Fernando Valley would give the city a profit and would dispose of the objection that otherwise the water would go to waste, and the power generated from the aqueduct be lost or diminished. Whether the city should undertake to float these bonds at this time is the only debatable question.

The largest, if not the most important, of all the bond issues upon which the voters will pass is that of issuing $6,500,000 of bonds to provide a distributing system for the electric juice generated by the aqueduct.

The distributing system of the present light and power companies is ample for all the present needs of the city. It is up to the companies to sell and the city to buy that distributing system, or to the city to sell and the companies to buy the power generated by the aqueduct, or for the city at a cost of $6,500,000 to build a parallel distributing system and compete with the companies for patronage. The effect of such competition would necessarily be to subject either the city or the companies, or both, to serious loss.

There are legal difficulties almost insurmountable in their character in the way of the companies either selling or leasing their distributing system. There are no such difficulties in the way of their purchasing for a term of years, either at a flat rate or otherwise, the Owens River power. If such an arrangement could be effected it should be at a flat rate, so that they would use the aqueduct "juice" and not be tempted to use their present plant alone; and first of all and above all the rate to be charged consumers should be fixed by an iron-bound, irrevocable contract.

On the whole, The Times, with the public interest in full view, advises the voters of Los Angeles to vote as follows, viz.:

On bond issue No. 1—$4,500,000 for a distributing system—vote No.
 On bond issue No. 2—$1,500,000 to convey the Owens River water from the end of the aqueduct to the city—vote Yes.
 On bond issue No. 3—$2,000,000 to convey the surplus aqueduct water to agricultural consumers and others in San Fernando Valley—weigh carefully and vote as your judgment may dictate.

On bond issue No. 4—$2,500,000 to begin the construction of a $7,000,000 to $10,000,000 high-line aqueduct to Pasadena, Glendora and San Dimas—vote No.

On bond issue No. 5—$2,500,000 for harbor construction—vote Yes.

On bond issue No. 6—$1,000,000 to acquire land and build a City Hall—vote No.

On bond issue No. 7—$1,000,000 to begin the construction of a municipal railroad—vote No.

On bond issue No. 8—$600,000 to acquire the site of the State Normal School—vote No.

Bond issues 2, 3 and 5, involving an indebtedness of $6,000,000, are imperatively necessary. Bond issues 1, 4, 6, 7 and 8, involving a bond issue of $11,600,000, are not now necessary or desirable.

All of them except No. 4 for the high-line canal—which never can be either necessary or desirable—may hereafter be advisable, but are not so at the present time.

THE PULPIT ON THE SHERKS.

"If all the good people voted there is no doubt what the result would be. But in every election fully a third of the registered voters, sometimes more, do not think it of sufficient moment to take half an hour's time to go to the polls and cast their ballots. Yet the dangerous element votes to a man."

The paragraph above is from a sermon preached Sunday morning in St. Paul's Cathedral by Dean MacCormack, in which he commended the work of the Municipal Conference, and printed in part in Monday morning's Times.

Dr. MacCormack was right in his analysis of civic duty and quite within bounds in his comments on the neglect of this duty on the part of the voters of the city of Los Angeles. At the charter election held recently (the last of eight elections within a year) the vote cast was about one in five of the total registration. One woman voter in ten voted. Surely the passing upon eighteen amendments to the city charter, most of importance enough to call to the polls all citizens eager to perform their duties to themselves and their fellow-citizens.

One week from today the qualified voters of the city of Los Angeles will be called upon to give their assent or dissent on several bond propositions amounting in the aggregate to about $18,000,000.

By the recent charter election the whole city government from Mayor to dog-catcher was voted out of office, a drastic proceeding to say the least. A primary election must be held in May to thrash out a list of candidates to go through the mill at the final election in June in order to have officials to take the place of the outcasts on July 1.

Surely these three approaching elections are of importance enough to call to the polls every registered voter within the city limits who is not absent from home or restrained from performing his duty by some insurmountable circumstance. Dean MacCormack spoke under the general heads of "Shirkers," and every voter who neglects to perform his duty at these three approaching elections will be a shirker so culpable that his lack of patriotism and civic pride will be a disgrace to American citizenship and bring just reproach upon the whole theory of popular government.

Those who carried on the recent campaign for granting the right of voting to women contended that practically the whole of that sex wished to exercise that right of importance to them, were willing to perform that duty. As a matter of fact, in the charter election the other day, the women who voted were about one to ten of those who might and should have voted. We entertain a high opinion of women's intelligence and conscientious regard for duty, but—

We would call attention in the most emphatic manner to two statements in the quotation above from Dean MacCormack's discourse. Let us quote them. "If all the good people voted there is no doubt of what the result would be." "Yet the dangerous element votes to a man."

The coming municipal elections—primary and final—involve a sharply-defined issue. There is no party politics in it. The question is clear-cut and simple. It is this. Which shall govern the city, the worst elements or the best, the wisest or the least

MEN AND THINGS ACROSS THE SEA.

The British Postoffice.

The rapid increase in the business of the postoffice is emphasized by the Postmaster General in his report, just issued, on the work of the department for the year 1911-12. During that period the postoffice delivered in the United Kingdom 3,184,500,000 letters, 905,500,000 postcards, 1,095,700,000 halfpenny packets, 128,300,000 newspapers, and 125,200,000 parcels, a grand total of 5,483,000,000 postal packets. The number of telegrams delivered was 39,300,000. This means that during the year every man, woman and child in the United Kingdom received on the average 70.3 letters, 20 postcards, 23.5 halfpenny packets, 4.4 newspapers, 2.5 parcels, and two telegrams.

The work shows a general increase of 3.5 per cent. divided as follows: Letters, 4.6 per cent.; postcards, 2.9; halfpenny packets, 2.5; newspapers, 1.5; parcels, 2.5. Letters delivered in London increased by 6 per cent. Postcards, it is pointed out, have more than doubled in the last ten years, and last year's increase in London was 4.5 per cent. The increase in halfpenny packets is much less than in 1910-11, when the figures were abnormally swollen by the general election. Parcels showed a general increase, and so did newspapers, except in Ireland. Registered letters numbered 21,255,000 (a decrease of 4 per cent.), and registered parcels 1,109,000 (an increase of 2.5 per cent.). Express services performed numbered 2,384,547 (an increase of 5.5 per cent.).

The deposits in the postoffice savings bank exceeded the withdrawals by £2,535,923, against £244,639 in 1910. The saving, which is the largest since 1897, is attributed to the prosperous condition of trade and the failures of the Charing Cross and Birkbeck Banks. The total amount standing to the credit of depositors on December 31, 1911, was £176,515,568.

The net postal revenue for the year was £5,535,597, or £65,064 more than in 1910-11, and the net telegraph deficit was £1,157,392—a decrease of £50,380. The net revenue from postal, telegraph and telephone services is estimated to be £5,165,175, or £259,179 more than in 1910-11.

Trouble Possible in Spain.

With the Balkan question settled more or less satisfactorily, or permanently, one might reasonably have hoped for a quiet year of rest in 1912. But conditions in the opposite corner of Europe, in the kingdom of Spain, are such that in diplomatic circles the feeling is prevalent that during the next twelve months we shall see revolution, or at least a civil war. The country is now at the budget for the present year anticipates a deficit of $30,000,000. The Moroccan treaty with France requires the spending of nearly $35,000,000 more on this African territory.

Already Morocco has cost the Spanish workers nearly $25,000,000 in money and 10,000 lives—not to mention what it has cost the Moors. And all this might have gone toward education. Members of the Cortes of various political sections deplore the miserable condition of the schools. Quite half a million children have nowhere to go to be educated. Even the prisons are better provided. The King and his advisers, well aware of the growing strength of republicanism, are doing everything to keep the army loyal. Of the loyalty of the majority of the army officers to King Alfonso, who is exceedingly popular among them, there is little or no doubt, but the troops are strongly influenced by republican ideas and repeatedly they have publicly cheered the republic in the King's presence.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

We all desire approval, and hope that when we do, our premature removal will cause a public sigh; and while on earth we linger, we hope that dames and gentle will at us point the finger of pride and confidence. And so, to gain indorsement, we try all kinds of tricks; some strive for law enforcement, some enter politics, some try to heal diseases by making purple pills, some deal in moral wheezes, and others pay their bills. Some cultivate politeness, or wear a manner great; some have an airy brightness that ought to captivate. Some hand out eloquence, the verbal flight that thrills; some plug for revolution, and others pay their bills. Some dress in gorgeous raiment, with bouquets rich and glad, while tailors shrink for payment, and milliners go mad. In one way or another we always strive to gain the plaudits of our brother while we on earth remain. One method is a winner; with happiness it fills the breast of saint or sinner—the paying up of bills. There is no plan that's better, no method that's more fit, because the chronic debtor can't hope to make a hit.

Up and Down Broadway.

JOHN DREW APPEARS IN CLEVER FARCE COMEDY.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

OVER twenty years that John Drew has appeared as a star in his own selection, his popularity has been largely due to his own personality than to the parts he has given.

Not to make any wholesale truths taste too unpalatable, Mr. Drew has favored the dialogue and the most humorous situations with clever and delightful comedy of the best type.

Each drop of the curtain is a find in suggestion, indicating by mute pantomime to what most spectators think.

Miss Mary Boland as Kallela, the typewriter saturated with pseudo Greek culture, is very interesting; so is Alice John, the handsome Agatha Margel, sister of Pelling, who impersonates a well-to-do, without exaggeration, the normal woman of brains and sane culture.

Robert Bruce, as the teacher of the new theory, has a difficult task in impersonating the would-be thinker, leader of women and lover of fresh points. A better conception of the reformer, with less severity, would make his part more convincing.

Margaret Weston is an excellent suffragette of the objectionable present English type; and Miss Sevenson, the easily influenced woman, accepting unperplexed philosophy as a spiritual diet, while her heart points to her normal path again.

John Drew throughout is, indeed, a perplexed husband. He brings in the impersonation of that character all the while that has endeared him to lovers of the elevated comedy he so ably represents on our modern stage.

There's much music in the air around the Orpheum this week, and some of it is very good music, indeed.

Young Master David Schooler is advertised as "the musical prodigy," and he lives up to the promise of the programme. He's a robust, healthy, and thoroughly artistic manner. Technicalities of the most intricate sort have no terror for him; it would seem. He disposes of them all with his fine, capable, strong young hands, drumming out the classics in a style to please the highbrows.

Louise Dickinson, a very pretty girl with a pretty soprano voice, helps Master Schooler in a pretty way.

H. C. Gierro brings his violin and Mlle. Carmen her harp, and stately and together they produce harmonies from the opera and from popular songs.

Gierro handles his violin with the ease of experience, doing pyrotechnics calculated to astonish. Mlle. Carmen, gowned in green, makes a charming picture as she bends over the golden harp, and her playing is charming, too.

Lenora Novasio as "Betsy Bobbin," and Fred Woodward as "Hank, the Mule," in "The Tik-Tok Man of Oz" at the Majestic.

For Children's Joy.

GENTLE ART OF GBEAST PORTRAYAL

WOODWARD'S WORK IN "TIK-TOK" UNIQUE IN DRAMA.

Animal Actors Must Be Clever and Possessed of Great Physical Endurance—Hot-Staff Costumes and Intricate Mechanisms Add to Difficulties of Task.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

In the musical comedy of "The Tik-Tok Man of Oz" there is a role that is unique.

The author has written no part for it. It is a role that is unique.

"Hank, the mule," has composed his own musical score, which is distinctive, expressive, if not musically fascinating.

The pantomime dialogue is also of his own composition.

As the programme tells us, Hank, with its skin off, is Fred Woodward, the most eminent animal impersonator now on the stage.

For the last fifteen years spectators have seen him in a variety of animal roles.

A comedy mule, with the Thomas Farce Company, was the first part of the kind undertaken by the animal actor, through sheer necessity of having somebody take a role, distasteful to most other actors.

Later it was a famous parrot in vaudeville; three years ago, a roaring lion and a meek cow in the "Wizard of Oz"; a donkey and a wise ostrich, which were metamorphosed into a very busy stork; a frog that could jump better than Mark Twain's celebrated one.

For three seasons, in the Folies, the G.O.P. elephant was a great card and the new Weber and Fields' show transformed it into the wicked crocodile in their fishing scene.

Hank was a teddy-bear in his last previous reincarnation.

No actor has had such a variety of impersonations to his credit, nor has distinguished himself in all for so long and yet remained unknown to the spectators who he has delighted them.

HIS FAMED UNSEEN.

It is a curious fact that, unlike any other player, Woodward's face is never seen. No one knows the man, however much one may admire the actor.

This constitutes one of the penalties attached to the role of the animal impersonator.

FOY COMING WITH FAMILY.

MOROSCO ACCEPTS NEW PLAY BY BYRON ONGLEY.

Billy Rock, Noted Stage Dance Producer, to Take Puck's "The Tik-Tok Man" to the Majestic.

By Mr. Foy.

Eleanor Kent, a prima donna well known to local audiences and a singer who is a great favorite with local players, will soon favor us with her presence.

Miss Kent will appear here in the very near future as the prima donna with Eddie Foy in "Over the River," which this famous comedian is bringing to the Majestic Theater, following the engagement of "The Tik-Tok Man of Oz."

Foy has not been seen here in four years, his last appearance on a local stage having been in "Mr. Hamlet of Broadway."

He recently sailed his four at St. Louis, and is expected to go any farther unless the seven Little Foy's come across the Rockies with him, with the result that his managers, Werber, Loeffer, granted his request, and the seven younger Foy's are now one of the features of the performance.

William Rock of Rock & Fulton will be among the interested spectators of "The Tik-Tok Man" tonight. That is, Mr. Rock will witness all of the performance except that bit he is forced to lose while doing his own act at the Orpheum.

He proposes to put on a very light make-up, slide quietly into the Majestic Theater after the lights are down, remain until about five minutes before he is due to go on at the Orpheum, jump into a taxi, do his act, and then slide back into the Majestic for the remainder of the performance.

This new extravaganza, by the way, keeps right on hitting the high-water mark of attendance at every performance, and there is every indication that this will be the condition throughout the balance of the limited local run of the musical play.

Oliver Morosco announced the acceptance of Byron Ongley's new play, "The Path of Glory," for early production at the Morosco Theater.

Mr. Morosco has suggested a few minor changes in the manuscript which Mr. Ongley is now engaged in making, and as soon as it is in perfect shape, we may have a chance to see Florence Reed, in what is confidently expected to be her finest opportunity she has ever enjoyed for really big acting.

Of course, many plays, for which nothing but success, has been predicted, have proved the most successful failures, but unless everybody goes sadly amiss in their guess of the new Ongley play, Miss Reed has a chance to make a name for herself.

Carl Walker was busy with the morning mail when The Ham entered the Pantages Theater office—with a bundle under his arm.

"This parcel post is a great thing," remarked the visitor, sinking gracefully into a chair.

"Not quite," commented Carl. "You can't send a parcel post to a man who is dead."

"The Chinese are the most imitative people in the world," resumed The Ham after he had recovered his breath.

"A friend of mine over in China sent a pair of old trousers and a piece of new cloth to a Chinese tailor with orders to make a pair of pants like the pattern. When the pants arrived he found the tailor had worn a hole in the seat and sewn on a patch just like the old ones."

"Where your friend made the mistake," commented Carl, "was in not putting a gold watch and a couple of hundred dollars in the pocket of the pants he sent for a pattern."

Digby Bell, known the country over as a comedian, will be the next week in a skit, "It Happened in Topeka." Any one who has ever visited Topeka knows that it is a place where anything might happen there, and that a good many do, so it may be expected that Mr. Bell will offer a very lively twenty minutes of entertainment.

The Lyceum Theater is again dark and will probably remain so until the coming of the Greek musical tabloids the latter part of this month.

The Armstrongs' Follies were once announced to play a limited engagement at the Spring street house, but nothing more has been heard of the arrangement.

It is also strongly rumored that Ferris Hartman and his company may play a short special engagement there.

The exact future of "The Tik-Tok Man of Oz" has finally been arranged with the eastern theater managers. From here the piece goes to the Cort Theater, San Francisco, thence to Chicago, where it will open at George M. Cohan's Grand Opera-house on May 25, where it is scheduled to continue through the summer, opening at the Astor Theater, New York, on September second.

Its opening date in New York is singularly enough is the same day on which "The Elixir of Youth" is booked to open at George M. Cohan's Theater.

So Manager Morosco will have two productions opening against each other on the same day.

TIGERS HURT AGAIN BY INJURY TO KANE'S ANKLE.

Little Venice Center Fielder Stops a Hard Hit Ball With His Leg and Will Be on the Shelf for a Week.

Angel Team Starts for the North on Their First Foreign Trip.

BY GREY OLIVER.

JOHNNY KANE, crack center fielder of the Venice team, was put out of the game yesterday for a week by being hit on the ankle by a ball batted by Dolly Gray in practice at Washington Park yesterday afternoon.

"We are having a lot of hard luck," declared the fiery Hap Hogan late yesterday afternoon, "but you can say we will be there when the bell rings. Why, we ought to have won six of the seven games we played last week with the Angels, but we will be there all right. Brashers' leg was not broken after all and with Kane out now we will have to make another change in the line-up."

"In the game Tuesday we will play Hoop on second, Hallinan at short and Melons in center, until Kane gets back into the game. I don't know who will pitch, but I guess it will be Hitt. The team's all right and don't you forget it. We'll show 'em as soon as we get strung out."

Of course, Hap Berry has little to say about the series of the past week, except to remark that he was going to win all the games he could with his team.

Angels on Road.

The Angels left for the north last night on their first foreign trip of the season and all of the men were taken except Faby and Jackson. Berry expects to give some of his new players a trout and it is a clinch that all of the men will have all the work they need before they return.

The Wolves at Sacramento will be the first team to face the Angels. The Wolves are a very tough bunch. Dolly Gray thinks his team has such a good start now that it will be hard to stop it.

Kane's Injury Not Serious.

Kane's injury was not as serious as at first supposed. He had been pitching for four or five of the boys to bat and after a long practice, gave way to a local newspaper man, who came to try his hand. Dolly Gray was at bat and with a healthy swing, knocked a foul liner down past the pitcher's box. Kane was waiting to the pit. The ball struck him on the left ankle and in an instant the ankle had swollen and a big black and blue mark marked the place where the ball had hit. Johnny was carried into the club house and first aid to the injured man given him in the way of applications. The wound appears to be nothing but a bad bruise, and Kane may be back in the game by the end of the week. It is a clinch that his leg is sore.

Good News.

Doc Hardin, the baseball physician, was at the park yesterday with the good news that Roy Brashers' leg was not broken when he collided with a runner at first base on Sunday.

Difficulties Bring Out the True Strength and Character of an Institution as well as of Men

WHATEVER temporary inconvenience may have been caused to the B. F. Goodrich Company by the derangement of Akron's working conditions, brought about through the instigation and appeal of business destroyers, is perhaps more than offset by the resultant attention directed to its clean-cut, high-grade good will policy, coupled with the resourcefulness that speaks for the organization and equipment of the Greatest Rubber Factory in the World.

The B. F. Goodrich Company is today larger and greater than ever. Fortunately no flood damage came to the Goodrich Factory. It is running full time and never was in a better position to care for customers' orders with dispatch.

Witness—A Train Load of Eight Cars filled with Goodrich Tires sent through to Detroit, Saturday, March 29th.

Witness—A Car Load of Goodrich Tires and Rubber Boots expressed to Dayton on Sunday, March 30th in response to an urgent call from the Dayton Relief Association.

Witness—A Car Load of Goodrich Washout Hose expressed to the same city on Monday, March 31st in response to a further call from the relief workers.

All this to prove that the working ability today of the Goodrich factory is not impaired or diminished in any particular whatsoever. The Goodrich factory stands where it has always stood—the first and greatest well-spring of Akron's prosperity and fame, and your best source of everything that's good in rubber.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Finance Committee of the City Council will today request the recall from the Budget Committee of the Mayor's recommendation that $100 be fixed as the monthly compensation of the members of the Harbor Commission, with the idea of recommending immediate action.

The Harbor Advisory Committee adopted plans for an immense transit shed and ask that bids be at once advertised for its construction. The special committee appointed to confer with the mutual water companies in the Owens Valley made report of an amicable adjustment of differences yesterday and the same will be submitted to the City Council today.

A real estate man, who took a woman's money on the understanding that he should invest it for her and who bought himself an automobile with it, was convicted of embezzlement in fifteen minutes yesterday.

SALARIES FOR HARBOR BOARD.

FINANCE COMMITTEE WILL MAKE RECOMMENDATION.

Request to Be Made Today to Withdraw Consideration of the Question from Budget Committee. Plans Approved for Big Harbor Shed.

C. H. Eubanks of Wilmington, supported by Assistant Harbor Attorney French, appeared before the Finance committee of the City Council yesterday and presented arguments in favor of at once fixing salaries for the members of the Harbor Commission.

Considerable debate followed and brought out a suggestion of $500 a month for each commissioner, but Eubanks thought that amount would be about right, which would limit the office expense of the commission to about $1000 a month. Councilman Whitfield thought that no man should be considered for the commission who would be a man's judgment if he were conducting his private business, and the question will come up again at the meeting of the committee next Monday.

In the mean time the Council will be asked to withdraw from the Budget Committee the measure of the Mayor recommending that the salary be fixed at $100 a month and recommend it to the Finance committee, while the City Attorney will prepare an opinion for the instruction of the committee, defining their exact powers under the recently adopted amendment to the charter, enabling the Council to fix salaries.

BIG TRANSIT SHED.

HARBOR PLANS APPROVED.

Plans and specifications for the proposed transit shed on the Mormon Island channel wharf were approved by the Harbor Advisory Committee yesterday and the Board of Public Works was asked to at once advertise for bids for its construction. The shed will be of wood with a stucco front and be 100 feet long and 100 feet wide, built along the west side of the wharf, with a four-track railway made there with the Southern Pacific Railway. This will leave 600 feet of clear wharfage south of the shed for the transfer of freight which is not necessary to put in the shed. Prior to advertising for bids the plans must have the approval of the principal Art Commission, but it is hoped to receive this promptly and have the shed completed by September 1.

AMICABLE ADJUSTMENT.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The special committee, consisting of Chief Engineer Mulholland of the aqueduct, W. B. Mathews, attorney, and City Attorney Shank, appointed to make an amicable arrangement with the mutual water companies in the Owens Valley made their report to the Aqueduct Commission, the Board of Public Works and the Council Finance Committee yesterday. It is understood that the city and the seven companies will harmoniously co-operate for the good of both, and the representatives of the city agreed to a modification of the Clark bill now before the Legislature, by which the taxation and its right of way will be exempted from taxation, but the city will continue to pay taxes on its property in Inyo county, which comprises about one-fourth of the city county. The Council committee will report today to the City Council, fully setting forth the findings of the special committee.

SYMPATHETIC EAR.

LIGHT TO DRIVE OFF VICE.

The South Park Improvement Association was represented before the Council committee yesterday by a large delegation of men and women headed by Mrs. J. H. Thompson of $10,000 for the improvement of South Park, but to meet the immediate emergency they asked for $100 at once for the construction of two drinking fountains and the installation of more arc lights. It was represented that the park of twenty acres has but a single light, and at night it is the rendezvous of vile characters from all parts of the city, and is exerting a demoralizing influence upon the young girls and boys of the neighborhood. Just at this interesting time in the history of the city's public affairs appeals are heard with a deeper touch of sympathy than at some other time, and the South Park folk went away with the assurance that the two fountains and four additional arc lights will be forthcoming without undue delay.

TO SWEET THE FLY.

Representatives of the Anti-Fly Committee of the City Council, recommending the purchase of the city's cement plant at Monolith was received from County Highway Engineer Joryer by the Supervisors yesterday. Joryer states that the county will thus come into possession of a valuable plant and be able to sell vast quantities of cement each year after supplying the needs of the taxpayers.

REAL ESTATE MAN CONVICTED OF BUNCO GAME.

Jury Returns Verdict in Fifteen Minutes—Testimony Adduced to Show Victim's Money, Believed to Have Been Invested in House, Went to Purchase Auto.

Ira W. Holt, a real estate agent, was convicted yesterday of having embezzled $1101 from Grace M. Carter. The trial consumed several days and was tried in Extra Sessions One before Judge Unanue. The jury took less than fifteen minutes to arrive at a verdict. The evidence was conclusive that Holt had taken all but $1 of Mrs. Carter's life savings.

The story Mrs. Carter told, and other witnesses confirmed, was that she withdrew her savings from a bank and gave them to Holt with the understanding that he was to build her a house on a lot she had bought through him. Instead of having the house constructed, it appeared that Holt had taken the money and banked the balance of the money.

Holt took Mrs. Carter to her lot in the automobile and made some excuse why the house had not been started. Attempts were made to recover the money from Holt, but he refused to pay. Deputy District Attorney Keetch, who prosecuted the case, showed that Holt admitted to the District Attorney's office that he bought the machine with part of the money, and when asked what had become of the balance was unable to explain. Holt's defense, through Attorney Linney and Schonover, was that Mrs. Carter gave him the money to buy the auto, that the remainder of the sum was to start him in business. Linney filed a motion for a new trial. Sentences was set for tomorrow. The penalty is from one to five years.

WOMAN AND PUP.

AND ALSO INFELICITY.

A mother-in-law and a pet dog were two leading factors in the domestic infelicity of Frank and Florence Keller, formerly of Detroit, which was aired by Judge Willis in the divorce court yesterday. Keller charged his wife with desertion and cruelty.

Mrs. Keller alleged cruelty in her cross-complaint. After hearing the testimony Judge Willis took the matter under advisement. According to Keller his wife's mother and father "camped" on him and he resented the expense, not to speak of the "quarrels" that occurred. He also complained that his wife wanted to have the puppy dog in bed. A split, which followed his protest, culminated in Mrs. Keller scratching her husband.

Mrs. Keller denies the acts of cruelty. She declared her mother had emphatically insisted upon seeing her, as long as they lived in the same city. On one occasion Mrs. Keller said her husband became angry and found his mother-in-law visiting at his home. He went into the bedroom, and as he kept a revolver there, Mrs. Keller was anxious to see him. "When he returned to the dining room," she said, "I sat on his knee to pacify him, searched for the gun and found it in a pocket. The Kellers were married in Canada in 1906. They resided at No. 1419 West Thirty-seventh Place.

QUESTION OF SALARY.

ODD CASE IS SUBMITTED.

The question whether City Auditor Myers had a right to refuse to pay Councilman John Topham three months' salary, aggregating $300, on the ground that he was under a city ordinance for having declined to answer subpoenas as a witness before the Civil Service Commission was submitted in Judge Price's court yesterday.

Deputy City Attorneys Westover and Penn argued that under a charter provision which board of supervisors attendance provides that failure to obey shall be punished by a fine of $100. This penalty is considered a debt to the city, and the City Auditor has power to deduct it. Attorney E. Wilson argued that Myers had no right to pass upon the matter and that the power of the Civil Service Commission to hold an investigation was a matter for the court.

Topham had been subpoenaed as a witness in the Civil Service Commission's investigation of the superintendency of the Police Fire Alarm and Telegraph.

SCORES YOUTH.

COURT'S JUST ANGER.

"If I was handling your case, I would make a man of you or break your neck," declared Judge Denmore yesterday to James Martin in the Juvenile Court. He had a copy of a letter Martin was writing when he was arrested. "This is the vilest piece of work I ever saw," continued Judge Denmore. "I cannot understand how a young man like you could write it. There must be something wrong with your head. It indicates you are going to the bad as fast as you can. Now I want you to walk the narrow path."

Martin was given probation on the plea that he would get work. He must report to the probation officer once a month.

NEAR THE END.

FEAR KILLING CASE.

The jury trying Avalon Cramley for the murder of Joseph Gray at No. 139 Broadway, Pasadena, November 23 last, will return to Judge Finlayson's court this morning for final argument and instructions. Partial argument was made by Deputy District Attorney Richardson and Attorney Charles S. McKelvey yesterday afternoon.

Richardson relies on securing conviction on the alleged confession of Cramley to his brother Howard, that he had cut off his right hand the evening and the significant fact that no weapons were found at or near the body of Gray when the officers arrived shortly after the crime was committed.

He dwelt strongly on the fact that a revolver was placed where the body was found and claimed that it was deposited there by some one interested in shielding Cramley. There was no evidence, however, to show this. McKelvey reviewed the testimony as pointing to suicide and went thoroughly into the evidence of the medical experts as to the character of the wound which indicated that Fear had cut his own throat. McKelvey has held out the beginning that the weapon with which the dead was done was taken away by the police authorities, but there was no evidence to show that this was the case. The evidence was purely circumstantial and, in view of the absence of the weapon, the case is a puzzling one.

HELP TO ANSWER.

WIFE'S CHECKERED CAREER.

Charles White, a beam-bolting young man, was bound over to the Superior Court in $100 bail by Judge Denmore in the Juvenile Court yesterday on the evidence of Mrs. Lena C. Denmore, a former inmate of Whittier. It developed during the testimony that Judge Denmore had sentenced Lena's husband from the Riverside county court for a term of six months. Her story of degradation, which bore directly on the fact that White had taken her earnings, held her in the usual interest of Judge Denmore, who contrasted the designing man with the immature girl. White's acquaintance with Lena was short-lived. They met on Main street, packed their suit cases, went to Venice, stayed two days and returned. White was picked up and followed and then White was picked up. In the two days passed at Venice White was out for easy marks and the money he had taken from her. He stated he wanted to gamble with and win enough money to start into business. An investigation will be made of White's career.

DANCE-HALL START.

NOW FACE FELONY CHARGE.

A dance-hall acquaintance led to the trouble of Paul Hardemas, amateur tennis champion, and his brother. The brothers were markedly in contrast. Paul is tall, athletic and brown from exposure to the sun on tennis courts. Vincent is smaller of stature and has less of character in his face. The relations between the brothers, however, appeared friendly. Occasionally Paul whispered to Vincent. Again he was seen to be in a quietness in the courtroom. He seemed more a spectator than a prisoner.

KNOCKS OUT SUIT.

DENTIST'S WRIT FAILS.

The third amended petition of the people in behalf of Charles E. Hill for a writ of mandate to compel the Board of Dental Examiners to issue him a license to practice dentistry was knocked out of court yesterday when Judge Topham sustained the board's demurrer without leave to amend. One of the grounds of the demurrer was that it could not be ascertained whether or not Hill had successfully passed the examination alleged to have been taken by him. Hill declared he had paid the fee and complied with the law and that on two occasions he had been arrested when he was practicing dentistry. He said he was regularly admitted to practice in Ohio, and having bought a half-interest in a dental office in Cleveland, Ohio, he was practicing there. He was arrested from July, 1907 to December, 1911, and was again arrested a year later and was again arrested.

SUIT WILL DECIDE.

PIER COMPANY RESTRAINED.

Pending the trial of the suit, W. R. Fraser and the Fraser Million Dollar Pier Company was restrained by an order of Judge Jones yesterday, staying the construction of an amusement project of the foot of Pier avenue, Santa Monica. The suit was brought by the company against Fraser and the company to prevent them from occupying ground which the city claims is a public street. The suit is for a wide and is west of Ocean Front walk, extending from Pier avenue to the city limits. At this point the streets are owned by the city. The contention of the city that the ground is for street purposes. Fraser holds that it is private property. The trial of the suit will determine the point raised.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

DEBARRERS SUSTAINED.

DEBARRERS SUSTAINED. Judge Topham made a decision yesterday when he sustained eleven demurrers to complaints. The grounds upon which the demurrers were filed were numerous and according to the court, well taken. The tendency will be that complaints hereafter will be drawn with more care.

NEW JUDGES HERE.

Judge McCormick exchanged benches with Judge Blodgett of San Bernardino yesterday. Judge McCormick is now in court in Imperial county; Judge Blodgett went to Riverside, and Judge Willis heard divorce suits. Judge Conroy is working on submitted cases in chambers. Judge Denmore of Riverside, Judge Cole of Imperial and Judge George L. Jones of Nevada City were the outside judges working in the local courts yesterday.

SMART TOO SMART.

"You tried to act too smart," said Justice Summerfield absent-mindedly as he assessed R. M. Smart $15 yesterday morning for having quarreled with a beach car conductor. The defendant smiled a trifle sheepishly and paid the fine.

THE PIE RUSH AT WASHINGTON.

Hungry Horde of Democrats Demand Favors.

Hundreds Seeking Each Vacant Federal Office.

Georgia Leads the Scramble, Few from West.

[Washington Correspondence New York Sun.] Democratic office seekers are sadly disgruntled. The weeping and the wailing in the market places have not yet commenced. The grand chorus of condemnation, criticism and cursing of the administration has been put off until April 7, the date of the beginning of the special session, but rehearsals are being held in the Washington hotels and boarding-houses and on the streets. There never was an administration since the death of Jackson so unpopular as the present one. The memorable cleanup in 1911 in which was repeated the utter disruption of the business affairs of the government by the application of the spoils system to the limit of its possibilities. The hungry horde is here, for whom the party is a measure. The party is responsible for the loss of the job. He has prepared what he calls a red book of official positions outside the government, and these dashes for a street car or taxicab. Letter carriers, newspaper men and fellow-sufferers among the Congressmen have been instructed in a code of signals by which progress may be had to the offices of the Georgia Democrats. Three hard raps and two soft ones will open any Georgian office door. This information is not given for the benefit of office seekers, but may prove useful, unless a new set of signals is adopted.

Alabama and Arkansas are close second to Georgia, with Tennessee rounding third and Missouri fourth. Indiana holds fifth place, and in close sequence come Kentucky, Virginia and Maryland. The other States are bunched in the rear of the race, New England being the most notable laggard. The Pacific Coast and other areas where Progressivism ran rampant last fall are not furnishing full quotas.

Maryland Congressman, who has twenty-three third-class post offices in his district, says he has had 313 applications for these twenty-three jobs, a ratio of nearly ten to one. Postmaster-General Burleson's office is the mecca for the seeker. Fortunately, it is one of the largest ante-rooms of any of the departments. There are more than two dozen leather chairs in the outside office. They have not been unoccupied since 9:30 a.m. of March 5, and the crowd of callers occupies standing room generously. There are four or five pillars to lean against and the weary caller can be and is accordingly seated in the hall. Postmaster-General Burleson has a private elevator which stops only at the fifth (his) and the ground floor. In point of exit is kept a profound secret, and it is by this means only that the Postmaster-General has been able to escape the press.

The Postmaster-General has a private secretary, a slender, brown-eyed youth from Texas, by name John Ruskin McAdell, who did have a soft, mellow southern voice, but it sounds now like a fence rail telephone. "For the first three days I tried to remember by name every person who called on Mr. Burleson," said Mr. McAdell. "I was awfully sorry, but I had to give it up. I might as well have tried to memorize the city directory."

They have a better system at the Department of Justice, which occupies rented quarters in four or five former residences. One of them, once the home of a rich East Indian merchant, has a porte cochere which does not seem to be attached to the department itself. Mr. McAdell's office is just back of the porte cochere. The main entrance to the department is on another street. By using an automobile, the Attorney-General is able to get home to dinner sometimes as early as 5 p.m. The office-seekers go out the other way at 4:30, for the Attorney-General after a week of seeing everybody, was compelled to issue an order saying that after 4:30 p.m. each day he would have to confine himself to the business of the department other than patronage.

One Man Power Profitable.

[Omaha World Herald:] There was a town in Maine that found it was constantly getting deeper and deeper into debt, and the people appealed to a certain man to take the office of chairman of the Board of Selectmen. He refused unless they would elect him to every other office in the town at the same time. It was found that it could be done under the law, with the exception of two other selectmen, and the man taking these places agreed to have nothing to do with the town affairs and let the one man run the whole thing. He took hold of the matter, and at the end of two years, without increasing taxes, the town was out of debt and had a surplus in the treasury. Mr. Jean G. O'Connell, the man who did that thing, says that he accomplished the work by "superintending expenditures." That is the one thing useful in all city, county and State government. There is no such supervision anywhere now, and because there is not, taxes are high.
